Madoc library set to begin busy summer schedule

by Jeff Wilson

The Madoc Public Library is proud to welcome the Summer Fun' program in conjunction with the Stirling Public Library

Two co-ordinators from the Stirling Library will be at the Madoc Library on Wednesday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., beginning July 7 until August 19 to provide crafts, August 19 to provide crafts, games, stories, songs and drama for children 4 to 10 years-old. The program was made possible by grants from the Ministry of Employment and Immigration. Librarian Reta Sporring asks that parents bring a loonie each week to help cover the costs of the materials used.

A grant from the Ministry of A grant from the Ministry of Culture and Communication the library is currently updating some of its resource materials. The grant was for $1.000 with the understanding the library had to "match that amount for a total of $2.009. Reta said the money was raised through book sales and fundraisers. fundraisers

As well as new books, people attending the library will also notice the availability of videos on the environment, health, lifestyle and special diets.

YIMBY program offers free composters to village residents

If the volume of area residents who attended the grand opening of the Whytock Park was any indication, the celebration was surely a success.

The days events began at 9 a.m. and went on to 6 p.m.

People attending were given a chance to use the swimming pool facility at no cost, view or compete in a beach volleyball and lawn bowling tournaments.

Reeve Tom Deline said in an interview that the village invites the public to come and bring their families, and take the opportunity to use the facilities and picnic at the park through the summer and on

As for winter use, Deline said the possibilities will be explored, with the problems of maintenance needing to be worked out.

Project Engineer Warren fill said the project really shows what a small community can do". He said the facility was built well above standards and allows for expansion in the future. As he looked out across the park, Hill said he can visualize new development with new ideas from new people to make it "one of the finest parks in small town Ontario". was built well above standards

Moira River Conservation Authority General Manager Terry Murphy said the authority equates profit with the amount of use of its lands by the public. He said at the end of me public. He said at the end of this they will be able to put the Whytock property in the profit column. The Whytock property was acquired by the MRCA for future conservational and recreational use in the early 70%

Hastings Warden and Huntingdon Township Reeve Owen Ketcheson congratu-lated the community and said it was now "up to the people to make it work".

Township Reeve Madoc Gerald Reid congratulated the Village Council and thanked the volunteers of the project.

The YIMBY (Yes In My BackYard) program The YIMBY (Yes In My BackYard) program set up a composter depot in the Madoc IGA parking lot last Friday. The program intends to distribute free composters to residents in Madoc Village, Huntingdon Township and Madoc Township. Co-ordinator Marvin Tucker said the program hopes to have 80 per cent of the residents in the three municipalities to be composting. Therefore 1,000 composters will have to be distributed through the program. YIMBY employees along with local politicians and Madoc IGA staff were on hand for the kick off. Glimpse...into the past

This building located on Durham Street and was home of the Conley Church Organ & Piano Company in the early 1890's. Currently the Madoc Review is one of the building's tenants.

The Conley Church Organ & Piano Co. was organized in the early 1890's. The firm's principal partners were J.E. Church and Townsend Conley.

and Townsend Conley.

By 1897, the enterprise and push they had enforced into sale of pianos, organs and sewing machines had won for them a connection not excelled by any other similar agency in the whole Dominion of Canada. With this goal in view, they made arrangements for estabmade arrangements for estab-lishing a large piano and organ manufacturing site in Madoc where they not only built a high grade line of instruments, but a name and reputation for themselves and also the Village of Madoc. At one time this establishment employed 30 men.

The octave duplex piano was one of the most sought after and therefore was it was hard to keep up with the demand.

By November 1899, with the wonderful development of both the wholesale and retail busi-ness all over the Dominion of Canada, more office facilities were needed, as returns were were needed, as returns were constantly pouring in from all parts of the country. As a consequence the firm moved their offices to the first door south of the original premises. It was tastefully remodelled with a spacious office with a large vault. Mr. M. T. Conley was congratulated on the management and the keep eve management and the keen eye toward future business. Mr. J.B. Church was in charge of all the agencies in Western Ontario, and he excelled in forwarding large returns for sale of instruments and sewing saie or instruments and sewing machines every week. Both Mr. M.T. Conley and Mr. J.B. Church were known as thorough, business men and conducted the business with skill and success until June of 1000 when the partnership week. 1902, when the partnership was dissolved, with Townsend Conley moving to Toronto.

J.B. Church continued on J.B. Church continued on with the company under the old name of "Conley Church Organ & Piano Co.", but he informed customers that he had secured control of the latest improved family sewing machine, which would meet every requirement of the purchaser and was built with the purchaser and was built with the course parts than any other purchaser and was built with fewer parts than any other sewing machine, thus making it less apt to break down. He also introduced a new design in the piano case organ which was strictly a high grade instrument piano. He also continued to handle the famous Beethoven Piano which was manufactured in Montreal.

manufactured in Montreal.

Mr. Church worked hard to keep the business operating, but due to his failing health the doors were closed in 1903. But for a few years, Conley and Church put our village proudly on the map with their products.

John B. Church died at his home in Madoc on April 29, 1906, leaving his widow and three children. The children were Winona, Gordon and Gladys.

The second annual slug-fest gets underway Friday evening with a kick-off doubleheader with the 1989 OHL champion Peterborough Peter's doing battle against the WOLF 101.5 FM Wolf Pack at 7:30 pm followed by the NHL Prosversus the Norwood Juniors.

The '89 Petes' squad will include familiar players like NHL star Mike Ricci, minor pros Todd Bojcun (Dayton Bombers), Joe Hawley (Peoria Rivermen), Ross Wilson (Kalamazoo Wings), Mike Dagenais (Halifax Citadels) and top university players Dave Lorentz and Troy Stephens of the University of Waterloo Warriors, Geoff Ingram of the Brock Badgers and Brian Hayton and Steve DeGurse of the U of Guelph

Griffins.

The third game slated for Friday evening will pit Fife's Bulls, led by former Belleville Bulls star Jeff Fife, against McClearys. Among the players helping Jeff out will be Norwood's Dave Stewart of the Kingston Frontenacs, Dave Schill of the St. John's Maple Leafs, Brock Woods of the Owen Sound Platers and Scott Feasby of the Brantford Smoke of the Colonial League. The OHL Stars, the Guelph Storm, the Oshawa Gang and the Petes' will join the fray Saturday morning.

The splendid rewards of quilting

Stylish designs: The quilting talents of Seniors Frienship Club members was on display at the Norwood Public Library last week. This brilliantly-coloured quilt, shown off by Dorothy Morris, will be given away at the Norwood Fair on Oct. 12. Tickets for the draw are available at $1$ each from Friendship Club members and at various locations throughout town. As many as 12 people helped with the quilting, Dorothy says, and another ten people chipped in with the squares. The quilters have certainly been busy recently, completing two quilts in just three months – their Canada 125 quilt was also included in the Senior's Canada Day Festival parade float. Quilting bee participants are now thinking of new projects for the fall, Dorothy says, but they still meet every Monday morning (from 10 am until noon) at the Pine Street Centre. Anyone interested in quilting is invited to drop in. "The more the merrier," Dorothy says. Photo/Bill Freeman

Regiment to unveil historic armoured vehicle July 10th

The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment Military Museum will unveil its recently-acquired "Bren-Gun Carrier", a Second World War tracked armoured fighting vehicle on Friday, July 10th.

The unveiling will take place at the Belleville 'Armouries, corner of Bridge and Pinnacle Streets, at approximately 11 a.m. The unveiling of the carrier and its dedication as a monument to the wartime battalion of the Regiment will follow the annual Landing in Sicily ceremonies conducted by the Regimental Association.

Association.
The tradition spaghetti and vino lunch will conclude the day's activities.

day's activities.

The acquisition of a Bren Gun Carrier has been a dream of the Military Museum for many years. Used by Canadian and British Commonwealth army units in every theatre of the Second World War, the carrier was employed as an armoured personnel carrier, mortar carrier, tractor for anti-tank guns, machine-gun carrier and all-round utility vehicle. vehicle.

It was the Regiment's "mechanical mule" in Britain, Sicily, Italy and northwest Europe. After the war, it continued in use with the militia battalion of the Regiment and many were bought by local farmers and numbers.

I used to worry about the cottage. It shows me such a good time and I take it so for granted. I arrive for a brief whirlwind of frenetic activity, then abandon it to fate again until the next time. What happens during these absences? What lurking strangers? What lurking strangers? What lurking strangers? What furtive scurryings? What dark dangers? What lonely vigil? Only the beaver gnawing another of my saplings knows for sure.

I try to make its waiting as painless as possible. I set out fresh ant traps and pinch my pinkies putting new cheese in the mouse traps. I say a prayer. I go back in to get the dogs who have eaten all the cheese, but none of the mice. When I leave the place is clean cheese, but none of the mice. When I leave, the place is clean When I leave, the place is clean and fresh except for where I tracked in mud getting the dogs. What the wife doesn't know won't hurf her. Next weekend I'll blame the mutts. While I'm away I worry that I forgot to turn off the pump.

Or that the raccoons are hold-ing a convention. Or that light-

Or that the raccoons are holding a convention. Or that lightning will strike. Or that the tax assessor is snooping about. I despair that my duct tape won't hold, a rabid moose has rampaged through the sun room and thieves are making off with my junk. The wife says they'd be the losers.

Each return is dramatic. Will the headlights reveal a downed tree, a washed-out drive, a dock floating elsewhere or not al all? Has a partridge flown through the front window, or a pipe burst or a rodent devoured the drapes? What was left on by mistake? Did the power go off?? And what is that smell??? The wife says she told me to take that garbage to the dump. I flush the john.

told me to take that garbage to the dump. I flush the john. To ease my mind, I installed a home security device. Motion sensitive, it gave me twenty seconds to enter or exit before all hell broke loose. But that's not enough time to go to the john first, so the whole lake knew that the Friday night knew that the Friday night siren was me hitting the head. Also, it assumed that I could exit without ever forgetting anything. The Sunday night sirens told the real story. The wife said we were probably attracting burglars and bought a baseball bat.

at a baseball bat.

It also assumed that only humans moved. So it would frequently go off during the week at the whoosh of a mouse whisker or the thunder of an ant step. A neighbour would shut it off and call me complaining about loss of sleep or cardiac arrest. The wife said no one would talk to her anymore. Who could hear with the siren blaring anyway?

The final assumption was that there was some point in being alarmed. Irate neighbours aside, who was there to hear the siren but the thief? By the time the police arrived, the culprit could have a moving wan packed. After it went off one dark rainy night and I found the short while standing soaked on a ladder high under the eaves. I shut it down permanently. The wife said she'd rather use her bat instead. I'm sure she meant on the burglar alarm. Remind me The final assumption was the burglar alarm. infest or spiders weave or bees bimble? Do storms rage and waves toss and cold winds blow? Does hature dare to blow? Does nature dare to trespass on my property? Yes, and It's hard to imagine, but usually nothing happens. The wife says I should have no trouble with that concept.

So to reassure myself as much as to deter nothing from happening, I joined our lake's Neighbourhood Watch Neighbourhood Watch Committee. Set up under O.P.P. auspices, this program-me has been very effective in discouraging two-legged intruders. I stuck warning stickers on every window and began to watch for strange persons, vehicles and events. The wife said I should watch muself eat

we placed property numbers at the head of each drive and set "This neighbourhood protected by Property Watch" signs on all lake roads. Those ugly clusters of individual name signs that eye-sore cottage roads were removed from all intersections and replaced by arrows showing which numbers were on what road. The same numbers were placed on all docks. Everyone on the lake has a map and a cottage directory; the local emergency services do too. We are all on guard. I thought the signs should depict the wife

Just do it...' Pretty apt words when it comes to rodeo action and the thousands of spectators who took in the Norwood and District Canada Day Festival Big 'L' Rodeo were not disappointed by the gritty performances turned in by coubboys and cowgirls. There was everything from Saddle Bronc Riding and Steer Wrestling to Ladies Breakaway Roping and Trick Riding — and plenty in between. All in all, this was the beginning of something great for Norwood and area.

NEW & USED APPLIANCE SALE RUNNING TILL THANKSGIVING WEEKEND

Over the winter months we have been re-conditioning appliances. We have in stock 80 used refrigerators with new compressors installed. The compressor motor is the most important & expensive part on a refrigerator. We buy compressor motors 100 at a time directly from the manufacturer. This way we can rebuild refrigerators cheaper than our competition. We have just purchased 500 used fridges & stoves from a company in Toronto that we have been buying from the last 10 vrs. A lot of these refrigerators are apartment size & 2 door frost-free fridges with matching stoves. We also have 60 matching almond fridge & stove sets, ranging from 2 months old & up. We also have 100 freezers of all sizes & a big selection of washers & dryers, lawn mowers and air conditioners.

Smitty likes competition - it keeps one on their toes & prices in line. Smitty says check our competitors out & then come to Smitty's & browse thru our warehouses & see what we have to offer You are not obligated to buy, just come & see for yourself our very clean & modern appliances. We take trade-ins. We have our own financing with no interest & same day delivery. If you are thinking of buying or selling your appliances, see Smitty just for an honest price.

WE JUST DON'T SELL APPLIANCES, WE GUARANTEE THEM AFTER THE SALE

User fee pick-up future possibility

by Jeff Wilson

With the rising cost of garbage disposal village brief-ly discussed the idea of a user pay system.

Councillor Crichton Harrop

Councillor Crichton Harrop told fellow council members he intends to visit Watertown N.Y. to observe their recently implemented user pay system. While describing the system to council, he said that the Watertown program has two sizes of bags, with the larger one having the town crest on it and the smaller having the town name. Harrop explained town name. Harrop explained that under the system only bags having the crest or name are picked up by the sanitation department. The bags are provided for each year by the German farmers pay visit to Madoc Co-op

by Jeff Wilson

As part of their tour of Ontario 40 German farmers stopped in at the Madoc Co-op to observe the operation last Monday afternoon.

Manager Mike Stevens said the Co-op received a call from tour organizers asking if the Madoc operation could be included in their tour of farms

Horace Seymour born in New Hartford in the state of New York, the son of Abner and Chloe Seymour, on the 8th day of October 1810. His father moved to the state at the beginning of the century from Connecticut where his grand-father. Lieutenant Uriah eymour, and his ancestors had lived for five generations

In his younger days he was an ardent sportsman, a keen eyed hunter and an accurate shot. He came to the Madoc area in 1835 through 25 miles of almost unbroken forest. The Seymour Mine had just been discovered and he assisted his brother, Uriah, in his efforts to develop the smelting and manufacture of that metal. After the temporary collapse of the iron market, Horace applied himself to farming and other pursuits.

His first wife was Emily Ward, daughter of Nathaniel Ward. She died in April 1851. His second wife was Jane Leggo of Brockville, daughter of Christopher Leggo. In this marriage there were five children, William Frederick, Annie, Jessie Ayton, Emma Jane and Marion Louisa. Three of these children died early in their lives.

William went on to graduate from the University of Toronto, taking top honors in mathema-tics. He was head master of Niagara High School for sever-

Beach volleyball tournament a success

by Jeff Wilson

The first-ever beach volley-ball, tournament at Whytock Park on June 28 was a total success according to tournament organizer Carm Donato.

Twelve teams participated in the all day event as part of the grand opening festivities at the park

The teams were placed into three pools with teams having similar playing skills in the same pool

The Pool A champ was the John Mastrokas team who defeated the Kramp team in The Pool B champ was a Centre Hastings Teacher team who beat the George Sarrazin

The Pool C champ was the Parks family team who defeated a CHSS Teacher

Donato said the courts will receive a load of beach sand and he hopes the courts will remain a permanent fixture at the park.

A two-man tournament of 16 A two-man tournament of to teams is planned for the Aug. 15 weekend. Future plans may include an elementary school tournament later on, Donato

Tires are a modern miracle; as a multitude of dump sites as a multitude of dump sites attest, they never wear out completely, just enough that they won't grip the pavement anymore. So we are stuck with trillions of waste tires looking for a second life. They are all probably full of green, brackish water. Maybe they come that way.

Old tires have their uses at Old tires have their uses at the cottage. They make great bumper guards. By edging the dock with pieces of their rubber, I was able to soften my more erratic boat landings (you know, the ones where the kids are screaming for the john, the dogs just spotted a squirrel on shore, my favourite hat is bobbing down the bay hat is bobbing down the bay and the wife is yelling that I deliberately splashed her.) Be careful with this technique: too many layers make the landing bouncey, not soft, with the result that the boat rebounds from the dock just as the wife is in mid-stride to get out. And thought she was wet before.

Tires worked so well as boat bumpers that I decided to extend the technique to my narrow garage door which was the frequent victim of too many ill-aimed comings and goings. The bumpers did prevent further splintering of the door frame, but the extra layers of rubber eliminated that crucial "inches-to-spare" gap. With my car firmly wedged between two old tires and rubber burning below, I had to reconsider this applica-tion. The wife shook her head at the matching skid marks. I wonder how long it will be before I'll scrape them off the side of the car with the door

My frustration with tires doesn't end with old ones. New ones are too expensive. And no two vehicles ever seem to take the same ones. There's a dozen different sizes and shapes and kinds. There's pick-up tires, and don't wake the klos! And usually the spare's flat too. But that doesn't matter, because the lugs were tightened with a 120psi air gun and the wife and the spare of the spare of the spare of the spare of the klos! And th I jumping up and down tog-ether on the tire wrench can't budge them.
To add insult, new tires now carry a $5 tire tax. For what, to pay the storage charges for those trillions of abandonees?

It can't be to pay for road repairs. Maybe it's for all the repairs. Maybe it's for all the row signs they put up to warn drivers how rough the road has become. Wouldn't want to damage a tire.

Then they want a couple of bucks to get rid of the old ones. So if they have any tread life remaining. I take them home to my intend-to-use-someday pile. The wife says I can only buy a new car that fits something in that pile. Preferably four identical somethings. But then I won't have the right size rims.

So I'll have the same prob-lem as everyone else. How do I get rid of my old tires? They won't take them at the dump anymore. One can only make so many bumpers and tree swings. Surely soemone can make a million inventing a second life for tires. Until then I'll concentrate on emptying out the water. Without splashing my pants.

Sudden-death playoff win gives Ling third Pine Ridge open crown

By Rolly Ethier

The Pine Ridge Golf and Country Club paid Roger Ling the ultimate compliment Saturday after he nailed down his third open tournament crown in the past four years.

Ling, a smooth-swinging member of the Bay of Quinte club, was presented with a complimentary membership at Pine Ridge with board member Bob Holmes making the presentation. What the Pine Ridge tournament organizers were saying in assence was that if you can't beat 'em, then make sure they join your club.

The low gross championship had to be decided in a sudden-death playoff after Ling and former Buffalo Sabres' NHL star Craig Ramsay tied with four-over par 75s. That was one stroke better tan the 76 posted by Roger Sweeting Jr. of Tamarac Tamarac.

In the playoff, which started on the uphill 182-yard par three 10th hole, Ling pulled his iron shot left on the high side, leaving himself a treacherous downhill chip shot while the sand trap to the left of the green.

Ramsay's tee shot landed in the sand trap to the left of the

Ramsay's bunker attempt came up about 20 feet short of the cup and then Ling showed his artistry under pressure with a delicately played chip that rolled gently down the hill, ending three feet past. Ramsay's putt was three feet short and Ling rolled in his putt to wrap up the title.

A big field of 129 entries took part and were delighted with the well-groomed Pine Ridge course conditioning. The tournament was sponsored by Campbellford Chrysler and afterwards General Manager Tom Holmes presented the championship trophy'to Ling, whose accurate driving and deft short game appears ideally suited to the Warkworth layout.

area.'
Although he didn't know it at the time, Ling used a birdie on the par five 450-yard par five 17th hole to help him forge a tie with Ramsay for the lead. Roger was on the edge of the elevated green with his second shot. Ling captured Pine Ridge honors in 1989 and 1990 but Dalewood veteran Ted

New IODE mission is unveiled at national convention in Regina

The mission of the IODE, a Canadian women's charitable organization, is to improve the quality of life for children, youth and those in geed, through educational, social service and citizenship service and programmes. citizenship

This new mission statement was unveiled at the annual convention held recently in Regina, reported Marilyn Murray, vice-regent of the Bemersyde Chapter at their annual June supper party held at Marie Locke's cottage at Crowe Bay.

The cottage, gaily decorated with Canadian flags, balloons and streamers in red and white to honor, Canada's 125th birthday, greeted the guests and members on their arrival.

After a sumptious dinner, Mrs. Murray called the meet-ing to order and assisted by

Bungee madness

What is that up in the air? Is it a bird, a plane! No, it's a bungee jumper!

Definitely not for the faint of heart, bungee jumping has become one of the hottest crazes in the country and it is also one of the new feature attractions at this year's Belleville Waterfront Festival and Folkorama.

Festival and Folkorama. Here's the deal. Those courageous enough to participate are securely strapped in by the ankles or harnessed at the waist to strong elasticized cords. After an introductory lesson on the ground, they are hoisted by crane to a platform some 165 feet in the air, all the while accompanied by a qualified jumpmaster. They then dive off the platform towering over the Bay of Quinte, free falling from what seems like a mile in the sky; the cords become taut, then stretch and rebound a dozen times while the wild-eyed jumper springs up and down like a jack-in-the-box.

NFW & USED APPLIANCE SALE RUNNING TILL THANKSGIVING WEEKEND

Over the winter months we have been re-conditioning appliances. We have in stock 80 used refrigerators with new compressors installed. The compressor motor is the most important & expensive part on a refrigerator. We buy compressor motors 100 at a time directly from the manufacturer. This way we can rebuild refrigerators cheaper, than our competition. We have just purchased 500 used fridges & stoves from a company in Toronto that we have been buying from the last 10 yrs. A lot of these refrigerators are apartment size & 2 door frost-free fridges with matching stoves. We also have 60 matching almond fridge & stove sets, ranging from 2 months old & up. We also have 100 freezers of all sizes & a big selection of washers & dryers, lawn mowers and air conditioners.

Smitty likes competition - it keeps one on their toes & prices in line. Smitty says check our competitors out & then come to Smitty's & browse thru our warehouses & see what we have to offer. You are not obligated to buy, just come & see for yourself our very clean & modern appliances. We take trade-ins. We have our own financing with no interest & same day delivery. If you are thinking of buying or selling your appliances, see Smitty just for an honest price.

WE JUST DON'T SELL APPLIANCES, WE GUARANTEE THEM AFTER THE SALE. THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Bagging grass and leaves makes no sense

by Alfred Von Mirbach Waste Reduction Co-ordinator Did you know that leaf and yard waste makes up almost one, quarter of residential waste? Bagging grass and leaves and having them hauled to a landfill site just doesn't make sense, economically, or environmentally.
Many of you have already

Many of you have already found a better alternative for found a better alternative for your grass clippings. You just leave the clippings on the lawn, where they belong. You may have done it because you were too lazy to rake and bag the clippings, or because you found for your lawn.

Some of you may have decided to collect your grass clippings in your lawn mower to you may have decided to collect your grass clippings in your lawn mower to you may have decided to collect your grass clippings in your lawn mower to you would you would you avoid putting your clippings out at the curb and that's great.

that's great

that's great.

Recent studies have shown, however, that many people in this area are still putting grass clippings out at the curb. They may be doing this because they are afraid that the grass clippings will dry out in clumps and make the lawn look less beautiful.

Others are worried that the clippings will cause thatch build-up and damage the lawn. or think they need a mulching lawn mower. Still others are probably bagging clippings just because they have always done it that way, and don't like to change Well, le let's take a look at these reasons.

these reasons.
Certainly, if you cut too much of the grass blade at once, or cut it when it is wet, you will get clumps of "unseemly" grass. The frick is to never cut more than one third of the grass blade, to set the mower blade to about a 2.5 height, and to make sure your mower blade is sharp.
This may mean cutting your.

This may mean cutting your lawn a little more often, and not having a super short "golf green" lawn. However, numerous studies have shown that ous studies have shown that the stime you save by not raking, emptying bags, and carrying bags, to the curb will compensate for the extra time needed to cut the grass more frequently. As for not having a super short lawn, cutting too short can actually damage vour lawn

What about the fear of thatch'

Well research has shown Well, research has shown that thatch is caused by fast growing grass roots. This is usually a result of over-fertilization, not excessive grass clippings. So cut back on fertilizers, and you will have less lawn mowing to do and a healthier lawn in the process.

Mulching lawn mowers do a good job, but you don't need one to leave grass clippings on the lawn. Just be sure to keep your mower blade sharp, avoid cutting too much grass or wet grass, and avoid over-fertilization, and your regular mower should do the job. If you are bagging just because you've always done it that way and don't like to change, there is not much I can say other

If your grass gets away on you and clumps despite your best efforts, you still have an alternative to putting it out at

You can add it a bit at a time You can add it a bit at a time to your backyard composter, being careful not to add too much at any one time. Better yet, start a separate yard waste composting pile, and add some of the unfinished yard waste compost to your backyard composter every once in a while.

If you don't already have a backyard composter and you backyard composter and you live in the Centre and South Hastings area, call the Composting Hotline (1-969-1964), and ask how you can get your free composter. or purchase a large yard waste composter composter.

So please, don't put grass clippings out at the curb. Leave them on the lawn where they do the most good. If you have to bag your grass clippings, at least make sure that you compost them. you compost them.

Tip of the month: If you notice fruit flies around your compost, try stirring the pile with a pitchfork, garden tool or even just a broken broom handle or sharp stick. Adding some sawdust, wood chips, leaves, or clean wood ash will also help kee them at bay.

Council decides to send recycling complaint letter

The complaint was brought to light in a discussion about garbage. Piszczek said garbage collection levels have been rising lately due to poor recycling box pick-up.

Piszczek told council, during a regular council meeting last Tuesday that Quinte Recy-cling doesn't always remove all the recyclable materials from the boxes. In discussions with village residents, he said a number of them have told him they will stop taking their blue boxes out to the curb if everything isn't going to be

Bi-weekly garbage pick-up discussed

by Jeff Wilson

Madoc Village Council discussed moving to bi-weekly garbage pick-up for residences in the village, and have refered the issue to committee.

A motion had been put A motion had been put forward during a regular coun-cil meeting last Tuesday, to begin picking up residential garbage every two weeks, beginning September 1, for a three month trial basis. The motion was moved and motion was moved and seconded, but council decided to refer it to committee for further discussion.

The change to bi-weekly pick-up would not effect the commercial businesses which would continue to receive weekly service.

When the question of whether apartment buildings should be included in the biweekly pick-up, Deputy-Reeve Lynda Matchett and Councillor Gord Crawford said they could not support a motion that did not include apartments.

Deputy-Reeve Matchett questioned the reasoning behind cutting out weekly garbage pick-up. Reeve Tom Deline responded by saying with the Blue Box program which allows residents to recy-cle 20 articles and now with the introduction of composters to the village, bi-weekly pick-up should sufficiently meet the peeds of the community should sufficiently meet the needs of the community. Deputy-Reeve Matchett said she likes the idea of being able to put out her garbage every week and doesn't have any place to store her garbage over a two week period.

"I resent the fact that I can't put my garbage every week, she said.

Councillor Crichton Harrop, who put forward the motion, said a move to bi-weekly pickup will also save the munici-pality money. Reeve Deline echoed the sediment, saying the village could save between $12,000 to $15,000 a year. During the discussion council deliberated on whether the bi-weekly pick-up should begin in September or October and had concerns whether the program would work in the armer summer months.

The issue will come up again

Fifteen cases of AIDS is reported by the Aids Resource Centre at the Hastings & Prince Edward County Health Unit and although media education has raised public awareness, judgemental atti-tudes, ignorance and panic still exist; the stigmatation as pairiful as the virus.

Homosexuality, promiscuity and junkies are identification marks which shroud the moralists view of the retrovirus. In their fight to control the virus, professionals, counsel-lors and individuals involved with aids issues, don't have the time for idealistic judgements. time for idealistic judgements. Shooting drugs is recognized as a health problem; homosexuality, a fact of life; as is heterosexual involvements. Without proper precautions or behavioural changes and education, these are also recognized as high risk behaviour for acquiring the HIV for acquiring the HIV retrovirus.

HIV retrovirus is the first step in eventually acquiring full blown aids. It is not spread through the air or by casual body contact, hugging, shaking hands, sharing food or kitchen utensils, toilet seats, swimming pools, water fountains, doorknobs, telephones or insect bites

Through the lens of social stigma, aids patients are seen as violating some sexual taboo. Sermons sweetened with stereotyping and medieval followings will not stop the spread of AIDS. The AIDS Resource Centre in Belleville offers individuals strict confidential HIV testing and counselling on a one to one basis. Only initials and birthdates are required to identify blood samples for testing. This procedure ensures the confi-dentiality of the client. Any person who has concerns may be tested for HIV retrovirus.

More people are acquiring aids. Heterosexuals are acquiring this retrovirus swif-ter than the stigmatation is fading. It doesn't seem to matter how aids is acquired, it kills the same.

The social matrix surrounding aids has been comprised of fear, racism, sexuality, religand discrimination. But irrational fears and ignorance are fading with education and awareness. Some funeral directors, who five years ago, would not touch an aids victim, are now practising universal precautions. But even at the professional levels, changes have been slow. Some funeral directors even charge an additional fee.

"There is no reason for an additional fee," John McTav-ish, Support & Services Coordinator at the Kingston Aids Project, (which also services area) explains that with universal precautions, there is universal precautions, there is no need for fear either. 40th anniversary reunion Oct. 10...

Calling all Norwood High grads

Norwood - Plans are well-underway for Norwood District High School's 40th anniversary reunion celebra-tion Oct. 10 and organizers of this special event want as many people as possible to attend.

Reunion organizers are also interested in hearing from graduates and former students and staff members who might have NDHS memorabilia or other items of anniversa interest.

Visitors to the school Oct. 10 will have a chance to wander through designated "decade" rooms and organizers would love to collect as much memor-abilia as they can to help make these areas as historically (and nostalgically) atmospheric as possible.

Anyone with items of inter-est should contact Elaine Scott

It would also be helpful if local NDHS grads tell their friends now living outside of the area about the Oct. 10 reunion/celebration.

You wouldn't want to miss out on a chance to meet old friends – and besides, the more the merrier.

Persons with disabilities now make up almost 14 percent of the Canadian population. Many of these qualified, skilled individuals face significant barriers to employment and advancement in spite of volunadvancement in spite of vount-tary employment equity prog-rams. This situation is even more difficult for persons with severe disabilities or those who require accommodation or long-term, resource-intensive Persons with disabilities do Persons with disabilities do not make up a homogeneous group. There is a wide range of skills and abilities among each portion of the disability community. The key is an individual approach which takes into account the specifics of the job applicant and the job requirements. The challenges for persons with learning disabilities cannot be met by policies designed to benefit persons in wheelchairs or those with impaired vision.

Many persons with disabili-

Many persons with disabili-ties see themselves not as disabled, but as differently abled. Some participants who are deaf or hearing impaired identify themselves as culturally and linguistically different, not disabled. They differ from hearing people in the way they communicate.

Persons with disabilities have challenged social and employment practices which employment practices which effectively deny their right to equality and a decent standard of living. Their right to job accommodation and equal access to services and housing has been recognized by the courts, but their role in the workplace is still limited by both attitudinal barriers and discriminatory practices, as well as by a lack of effective and timely job accommodation.

In addition, factors outside the workplace such as lack of transportation, loss of drug benefits and absence of education equity also limit opportunities. Nevertheless, persons with disabilities are more present in the workplace today, largely due to better organization and assertiveness on their part.

Three employment equity issues of vital concern to persons with disabilities are the definition of the term "disability", voluntary self-identification and job accommodation measures

On our 125th Birthday, we're on top of the world.

The Human Development Report (1992) ranks Canada No. 1 in the world for quality of life.

Published by the United Nations Development Programme, the report is based on the life expectancy, education levels and purchasing power in 160 countries.

125 years to celebrate

Olympian battle: Norwood's popular house league soccer program is back for its second year and the on-field action for the young boys and girls is a furious as ever. Before each game the youngsters participate in soccer drills and practice sessions. Above, three players — with thoughts of Barcelona, perhaps — battle for possession of the ball. Photo/Bill Freeman

A Bancroft woman, Betty A Bancroft woman, Betty Lambeck, scored a victory over Madoc's Ken Topping to become the NDP candidate for the riding of Hastings-Frontenac Lennox and Adding-ton in the next federal election.

A group of 51 attended the nomination meeting held at the Tweed Playhouse June 28th. Riding president Paul Whittak-er says the NDP believes there will be a fall federal election with the main focus on the constitution.

Guest speaker Mike Breaugh. MP for Oshawa, said when he lived in the riding, all elections were won by the Conservatives. The only contest was in electing the Tory candidate.

"Things are changing," he noted. "People are thinking about politics and know their vote counts. It's no longer a matter of voting the way your grandfather did."

Breaugh said the free trade deal with the United States "has been disastrous for Canada, and the inclusion of Mexico will only make things worse.

da, and the inclusion of Mexico will only make things worse. This arrogant Mulroney government has left the economy in tatters. It's more interested in the constitution than in the economy."

MPP Elmer Buchanan, who nominated Lambeck, spoke of her many lead roles in the life of Bancroft and Hastings

County.

Explaining why she decided to seek the nomination. Lambeck said it was a case of thinking about what she could offer. "I can bring the perspective of a parent, a homemaker, a public servant, a childcare worker, a small business person, a community volunteer, an environmental advocate and a woman. These perspectives and experiences need to be better represented in the federal parliament it it's ever to resemble the real Canada. Canada.

Sexual Abuse in our town

Editor's (L.J. Jackson) Note: No town escapes it. It happens in everyone's town. happens in everyone's town. It's happening now. Many children have sexual acts forced upon them by trusted family members. This includes cousins, uncles, stepfathers, brothers and fathers. The crime is not of passion. The attacker acts out of a need to have control over someone. The intimidation felt by the 'survivor lasts a lifetime. Trust survivor lasts a lifetime. Trust becomes a word not found in a survivor's dictionary. It takes a great deal of strength for a survivor of incest to open up. I am filled with respect for this author and others like the author who have somehow summoned this strength and trusted me with their experi-rusted me with their experi-ence; a trust which previously had been forcefully destroyed. There is a difference between sexual assault, lust, passion, and love. Sexual assault is force; intimidating; powerful; and for the survivor, demoralizing. If you have ever experienced a situation in which you have felt the domi-nance of someone more powernance of someone more power-ful or stronger, you may have some idea how a survivor of incest or sexual assault feels. If you have been assaulted, talk to someone. Call the talk to someone. Call the Sexual Assault Centre at 967-6300. If someone tells you they were assaulted, listen. Forget judgement. Listen.

Due to the contents of the following article, the author wishes to remain anonymous.

Abuse Survivors and the Masks they Wear

When you put on your mask what does it look like to others? More importantly, what is it you are trying to hide from others? Those who are surviof childhood sexual abuse and those who are present or recent victims of domestic domestic violence frequently adopt masks to hide their shame. It is much wiser, in their view, to hide than to risk rejection.

Society continues to judge and penalize the victim rather than the offender.

Consider the plight of a woman who as abused by a family member while she was a child. The perpetrator may have been a father, a brother, a grandfather, an uncle, and in some cases, a mother or other female relative. Almost always it is someone she/he should have been able to trust, someone she/he loved, at least initially. Frequently the abuser was also someone upon whom the child was dependent. er was also Suppose also that the abused and abuser lived in an area where the family was promiwhere the family was promi-nent and well known, active in church and community. Who is going to believe her/him if she/he tells of being abused? What are the penalties if she/he does tell? What threats have been used to force her/him to keep silent? Who would she/he dare to anproach? dare to approach?

The responses she/he fears The responses snene rears and with good reason, might include, "I don't believe you, your (father, brother, grandfather, etc.) is like and respected in this town. He wouldn't do such a thing." wouldn't do such a thing."
"What did you do to make him act that way?"

"I don't want to hear about it. It doesn't concern me."

It was a long time ago, why on't you forget about it?"

So the survivor hides behind masks of silence, passivity, depression, eating or other disorders, addictions and other clever disguises too numerous to mention. Victims of domesto mention. Victims of domes-tic violence use the same type of disguise. Sometimes the survivor of childhood abuse and the grownup victim of spouse abuse are one and the same. Often the abuser was also abused as a child. It becomes a vicicous spiral carried from one generation to the next. Someone must stop the cycle.

When will society accept the prevalence of widespread childhood abuse? How long devastation for one individual survivor is greater in some ways. At least the boys at Mount Cashel knew that it was happening to others. Frequent-ly one little girl or boy in a family believes shehe is the only one. Often if the child is an older child she/he will also accept abuse, believing that if she/he accepts it, she/he will save younger siblings. It usually doesn't work out that way, but that is what the child tries desperately to do.
If you, as Mr. or Mrs. Ordinwill we shake our heads and murmur about what happened at Mount Cashel or the training schools, while denying that the same type of thing is happen-ing and has happened to individuals that we know? The devastation for one individual

"Zebra-busters" team attempts to curb spread

A team of "zebra-busters has kicked off a tour of Ontario to demonstrate how to avoid spreading the dreaded zebra mussel mussel.

The team, a partnership between the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters and the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, was launched at a Toronto press conference by Minister Bud Wildman and OFAH president Dr. David Ankney.

Dr. David Ankney.
Zebra mussels have colonized areas in the Great Lakes since being deposited by ocean freighter ballast water in the in the mid-1980s. Last summer they infiltrated inland waters through the Trent-Severn Waterway. It's likely that a recreational boater carried the mussels through the system.

Many fear that the molluscs will threaten fragile inland aquatic ecosystems disrupt fish habitat.

"This is a small but very positive step toward dealing with the zebra mussel problem in Ontario," said OFAH presi-dent Dave Ankney. "When people discover that they can unwittingly spread the mussels and possibly threaten the natural environment, they will take personal steps to slow the spread.

"By buying some time, we're hopeful that government and non-government organiza-tions can work together to ensure that zebra mussels don't devastate our irreplace able aquatic ecosystems," said

Ankney. One zebra mussel can create hundreds of thousands of nundreds of thousands of offspring per year, and the larval mussels cannot be visually detected. But if the following five-point check list is practised, the risk of transreduced:

YIMBY program hopes to distribute 18,000 composters in Hastings

The distribution of backyard composters throughout Centre and South Hastings is continuand South Hastings is continu-ing at a rapid pace., However the 80 per cent participating households is still a way off. Of particular interest to the YIMBY (Yes In My Back YIMBY (Yes in My Back Yard) organizers was the response from rural residents. During two weekends in June, depots were located at the IGA stores in Tweed, Madoc, Marmora and Foxboro.

Response at rural depots was far beyond expectations. Depot staff had difficulty keeping up with the demand and by the time the second weekend was completed three to four times more composters had been distributed than had been been distributed than had been anticipated.

If the goal of 80 per cent participating is reached, it is expected that approximately 18,000 composters will be in use within. Centre and South

The task of supplying this number of composters is by no means a small one and the Centre & South Hastings Waste Management Board has relied on various supplies to meat on various supplies to meet this demand.

A "Request for Quotation" form was sent out to 22 composter manufacturers, of which 13 companies responded with quotas. Three local companies were among the 13.

companies were among the 13.

The responses were evaluated based on a long list of criteria including price, size (assembled and disassembled), capacity, weight, material (reused/recycled content), amount of packaging, appearance, ease of assembly and use, past performance durability, functionability and the supplies ability to deliver a specific number of composters within a frame composters within a frame time frame.

The lowest quotas came from the three local compa-

Ross Roller, Solution Design and Composting, and also from Shirlon Plastics, a Cambridge company that produces a composter called the Eco-Balance.

Madoc hockey schools returns

by Jeff Wilson

The Madoc Hockey School, featuring Steve Bancroft, returns for another year with a few minor format changes.

The week long program will begin Aug. 3 to the 7th. In an interview, Bancroft said 85 players, four from Connecti-cut, Toronto, Bancroft, as well cut, Toronto, Bancroft, as well as Madoc, Marmora and Tweed have already registered and he and his partner Louie Crawford are hoping to have 100 players for the school. The school is open to players and goaltenders aged 7 to 17-years-old at a cost of $195. Bancroft, said a percentage of the registration fees will be donated back to Madoc Minor

This year's school offers players and goaltenders approximately seven hours of instruction over the week. Each day will include two ice sessions, a dry land training session, including baseball and soccer, and an instructional session with videos and films.

Along with Bancroft and Crawford other instructors will include, Bryan Marchment, Jim Weimer, Floyd Crawford and Shawn Mackenzie of the and Shawn Mackenzie of the Newmarket Saints. Bancroft said players will learn stickhandling, shooting and passing skills and a portion the of on ice instruction will include power skating. The week long program will end with a large scrimmage on the last day.

New protection measure for Ontario's wetlands

Natural Resources Minister

Natural Resources Minister Bud Wildman has announced a new protection measure for Ontario's wetlands. Wetlands south of the Cana-dian Shield have been rapidly disappearing as a result of pressures from various kinds of development. It is estimated that more than 75 per cent of the original wetlands in southern Ontario have already been lost. In the north, some types of lost. In the north, some types of wetlands are relatively scarce and may be jeopardized by competing land uses.

"The provincial government attaches tremendous importance to conserving Ontario's wetlands for future genera-tions," said Wildman. "We are therefore committed to taking strong action to protect this valuable resource before it's too late."

Wetlands are vital natural phenomena that must be protected if the environment is to be preserved for future generations. These vital areas sustain water quality and quantity and provide economic and social benefits that contri-bute to the high quality of life in Ontario

NFW & USED APPLIANCE SALE RUNNING TILL THANKSGIVING WFFKFND

Over the winter months we have been re-conditioning appliances. We have in stock 80 used refrigerators with new compressors installed. The compressor motor is the most important & expensive part on a refrigerator. We buy compressor motors 100 at a time directly from the manufacturer This way we can rebuild refrigerators cheaper than our competition. We have just purchased 500 used fridges & stoves from a company in Toronto that we have been buying from the last 10 yrs. A lot of these refrigerators are apartment size & 2 door frost-free fridges with matching stoves. We also have 60 matching almond fridge & stove sets, ranging from 2 months old & up. We also have 100 freezers of all sizes & a big selection of washers & dryers, lawn mowers and air conditioners. Smitty likes competition - it keeps one on their toes & prices in line. Smitty says check our competitors out & then come to Smitty's & browse thru our warehouses & see what we have to offer. You are not obligated to buy, just come & see for yourself our very clean & modern appliances. We take trade-ins. We have our own financing with no interest & same day delivery. If you are thinking of buying or selling your appliances, see Smitty just for an honest price.

WE JUST DON'T SELL APPLIANCES, WE GUARANTEE THEM AFTER THE SALE. THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

Historical Notes

The "no" Celebration of July 1 1867

1, 1867.
In contrast to the enthusiastic reporting of the Madoc Review, the editor of the Madoc Mercury criticized the local officials severely for their niggardly response to the first opportunity to celebrate Dominion Day in Madoc. Here are his thoughts on the subject from the editions of June 29th and July 6th respectively. First of July First of July

The Reeve has issued a Proclamation, requesting the Inhabitants of the Township and Village of Madoc to observe the 1st of July as a public holiday. Beyond closing the shops, calling out the volunteers, and perhaps a little picnicing, there will be nothing done in the way of general repoicing rejoicing.

At the Masonic Picnic, Mr.
Agar, in accordance with the announcement previously made, spoke in favor of a celebration worthy of the occasion; and in response to an sion; and in response to an invitation for an expression of opinion as to the propriety of the Township Council being called on to make an appropriation for the purpose, all hands were held up in force of were held up in favor of it. Some members of the Council however, it appears, declined to take the responsibility of spending any of the Township money this way, fearing it will be objected to by the ratepay-ers. We think they are mistaken in their estimate of the loyalty of the people of Madoc, which we do not believe is so faint of nature as to be unable to bear the imposition of a tax of something less than five cents a head for an object of something very like national importance. However, it is now too late to do anything, and the inaugural Day of Confederation in Madoc will be consequently a slow affair.

Dominion Day

The inauguration of the new Dominion of Canada" on the 1st of July, was celebrated in Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto and other places with much enthusiasm. Processions, enthusiasm. Processions, reviews and excursions were the order of the day - illuminations and fireworks for the night. But in Madoc to the mortification of many, far less was attempted than has in former years been successful-ly accomplished for the Queen's Birthday, All that was done in response to the request done in response to the request of the Reeve that the day be kept as a public holiday, was to shut up the shops, display flags, and parade the volunteers through the streets, after firing a "feu de joie" on the cricket ground. No games were played and no funds were provided for fireworks, or the attendance of a band of music, either of which would have been a treat to many of the inhabitants of the Township. Disappointed in their expecta-tions of finding some manifestations of rejoicing, a few persons laid the blame on the Councilmen who were present in the village alleging that they were afraid to take any respon were afraid to take any responsibility of voting an appropriation for celebrating the day, lest they should lose votes at the next election. This charge, arising out of remarks made by the Reeve, is emphatically repudiated by Messrs. Tumelty and J.N. Moore, the latter of whom says the Reeve did not speak one word to him on the subject. Mr. Reed also says that he was not consulted as a Councilman about it. The Councilman about it. The responsibility of "burking," the proposition for an appropriation from the townships funds, and consequently spoiling the day is thus distinctly thrown on the Reeve himself. It is hoped that the affair will be better managed next year.

Madoc Township Council Minutes

Madoc Township Council held a regular council meeting on July 6 at 7:30 p.m. Present were Reeve G. Reid, Deputy-Reeve R. Sager and Councillors R. Robinson, G. Burris and L. McCoy, Road Superintendent T. Bruce, Chief Building Official and Bylaw Enforcement Officer D. Keller.

It was moved by McCoy and seconded by Burris that Coun-cil approve the minutes of the June meeting of Council as circulated. Carried.

The Road Superintendent attended to advise of the prog-ress to date in the reconstruc-ress to date in the reconstruc-tion of the Old Marmora Road. Two tenders were received for supply and paving of the Old Marmora with HL3 hot mix. Total tender for 2,030 tons. Northland Bitulithic $40,08\ton for a total cost of $5,695.37 and Wimpey Minerals Inc. $34.22/ton for a total cost of Council determined that the tender not be awarded until they have first consulted with the Township of Huntingdon since the two municipalities are sharing equally in the

are sharing equally in the project.

Mr. Albert Sager attended Council to seek their assistance in closing a piece of Township road allowance in Concession 10 between Lot 10 and Lot 11 for a distance of 880 feet. He advised that Council should proceed but would appreciate keeping the costs of such a road closing to a minimum.

minimum.

Mr. Gerrard Forestell attended to seek Council's support in establishing a road entrance on County Road No.
12 just north of the "Kingdom Hall" Discussions with the County Engineer's office have indicated that the establishment of such an entrance at this point would be a costly procedure due to the location of the Arena entrance in the of the Arena entrance in the same area. He asked for the support of Council in resolving any further information required from him in order to roceed with the rezoning of his property to permit him to sell vehicles. Council thanked him for his attendance but did not require anything at this Doug Keller attended Council to determine whether Council had any questions regard-ing building or bylaw enforcement. He advised of the single building permit issued for the month of June which was indicative of the decline in building in the area for the entire year. After some further brief discussion Mr. Keller took leave of the meeting.

It was moved by Sager and seconded by Robinson that Council approve the C.B.O's report as submitted. Carried. The Reeve advised the Council of the results of a recent meeting involving himself, IKO Industries and Centra Gas. He advised that, in order that natural gas be prought to Gas. He advised that, in order that natural gas be brought to the area, a franchise agreement with the gas company would be required. A similar agreement is required with each municipality through which a natural gas carrier installs their works.

It was moved by Burris and seconded by McCoy that the Reeve and Clerk enter into a franchise agreement with Centra Gas when it becomes apparent that they have agree.

Centra Gas when it becomes apparent that they have agreement to supply IKO Industries and that the Clerk write the Ontario Energy Board to illustrate the benefit natural gas service would have on the area. Carried.

It was moved by Sager and seconded by Röbinson that the Township write the Hastings County Economic Develop-ment Committee to advise them of Council's opinion submitted by Creative Response and that a copy be sent to Dawn Holcombe, Acting Director, Wm. Ontario industry provides money to Centre Hastings recycling Six Ontario municipalities including Centre and South Hastings received grant money totalling $700,000 from OMMRI to help pay for their Blue Box Plus programs. Since 1986, OMMRI (Corporations In Support of Recycling) a not-for-profit organization has helped muncipalities launch and expand recycling programs through financial and technical assistance. Currently, OMMRI hs committed more than $21 million in grants $1.8 million of which was distributed since was distributed since May 1992.

Recycling Co-ordinator Bob Argue said the grant to Centre and South Hastings represents demonstration and some operating costs of the Blue Box Plus recycling program for last year. He said OMMRI co-sponsored the program along with the Ministry of the Environment Environment.

Environment.
"Six years ago only 150,000 households had Blue Box programs," said Robert Flemington, OMMRI's president and CEO. "Today, because of the co-operative effort among OMMRI, and municipal and provincial governments, more than 2.9 million Ontario households have access to recycling programs.

programs. "OMMRI's goal is to help expand the system to reach 80 per cent of Ontario's population and by doing so, help to meet the province's waste reduction targets of 25 per cent by the end of this year and 50 per cent by the year 2000."

County
Committee and the Economic Committee and the Economic Development Committee said the jobs will be created over a three year period as a result of funding from the Ontario Mini-stry of Skills Development.

In an interview, Deline said the program will be unveiled on August 16. He said the "benefits are tremedous" for employers. He added that he some 14 to 15 employers have called to enquire about the program.

Under the Jobs Ontario Training Fund, local employers and businesses will receive wage and training subsidies of up to $10,000 per year for each person hired through the program. Eligible participants will include recipients of Social Assistance as well as persons whose Unemployment Insurance Benefits have expired.

Deline said businesses loking to expand can really utilize this program. He added that this program is a long term hiring project not a short term solution.

The County hopes the Jobs Ontario program will generage a total of $15 million in economic activity over the next three years when combined with employer participation and the $5 million provided by the Ministry of Skills Development.

Rural and Village residents are going to be at greater risk as of July 26, 1992. Ambulance service cutbacks will take place beginning on that date. Whether an accident or other life-threatening situations, time is of the essence. After six to nine minutes in a choking or heart attack situation, lack of oxygen can result in brain damage, even if the patient's life is saved. Of course this holds true in any situation that denies oxygen to the person. Naturally the question is how service to 12 hours on duty and 12 hours on standby. Eight 12 hours on standby. Eight a.m. to 8 p.m. will have attendants on duty and response will be immediate, standby will allow the personnel nine minutes to arrive at the base. In a brain damage situation this already is too late. But according to Mr. Alsaiser this time could be as much as 15 mine could be as much as 15 minutes on the road. In my mind, in some cases, they could have stayed in bed and called the undertaker, but that of course cannot be because they cannot make this index. they cannot make this judgment. Another point that has been noted by Mr. Alsaiser is that a greater load may be put on local fire departments and rescue units. It is only natural that someone in trouble will seek other forms of aid if the ambulance is not available. These people do an excellent job, but they do not have as much expertise and back-up as ambulance personnel, nor do they have transport equipment. The two were intended to work in conjunction with each other, not for the rescue units to replace ambulance

The other problem is that the floater ambulance will not be available to cover if the vehicle from Madoc is out doing a call.

In our discussions with Mr. Buchanan, the question was raised whether these cuts in service were being directed from the Ministry level or were the result of the private opera-tor's efforts to stay within the minimal budget increase for the current year. From the submission by the attendants, there seems to be significant differences in budget allot-ments from one area to ments from one area to another. Now I don't know if this is by submission varia-tions or by the Ministry, but it is food for thought.

It seems that a meeting of e Trenton attendants and management a salary and expense five hits, including "Patio Lanterns."

Shakin' Like A Human Being earned Mitchell the 1987 Juno Award for "Album of the Year," Toronto's "Male Vocalist of the Year" honour and the Music Express's "Working Class Hero" award.

Mitchell's live performances were honoured in 1988 when Kingswood Music Theatre presented him with its first-ever "Platinum Ticket Award" to celebrate the 100,000 tickets he had sold over 100.000 tickets he had sold over a five year period. This coincided with another first – three capacity concerts in the park surpassing his own attendance record and those of acts like Sting, ZZ Top and David Lee Roth.

His Rockland release in 1989 produced three Canadian hits - "Rock 'N Roll Duty," "Rockwonderland" and "Expedition Sailor" - and was supported by the most successful Canadian tour of the year.

It also brought him another Juno Award for "Best male Vocalist."
In 1990 Mitchell decided to Coming up aces: Bruce Dunk (left) had no trouble mastering Oakland Green's Golf and Country Club's 133 yd. 14th hole Wednesday afternoon. All the Campbelford golfer needed was one stroke of his Spalding Executive siz iron and his Topflite EL was on its way into the hole. It was Mr. Dunk's second lifetime hole-in-one – the first came during a round of golf in Niagara Falls. Congratulating Mr. Dunk is Oakland Greens' owner Bill Muir. Photo/Bill Freeman Wearing a seatbelt is not an option—it's the law.

Hospitalization and rehabilitation costs for motorists injured while not wearing seat injured while not wearing seat belts are twice that of users, according to the Ontario Mini-stry of Transportation. Statis-tics show that wearing a seat belt reduces the risk of serious injury and the likelihood of being thrown from a vehicle during a collision.

"We have expanded our view of health from treating illness and injury to include empha-sizing ways in which we can' stay healthy, said Health Minister Francis Lankin. "Wearing a seat belt is one of the preventative measures we can take to achieve this goal."

A survey conducted by Transport Canada in October, 1991, indicates that although the number of people who are buckling up has risen, almost one in five drivers still does not use a seat belt. So buckle up for

Pat K. of Toronto sent me this delicious meat relish recipe

Pear Relish

4 lbs. preserving pears 2 medium white onions 1 sweet red pepper

1 teaspoon salt 1/2 tablespoon whole mixed pickling spice

I cup white sugar
1 1/2 cups white vinegar Cut peeled pears in small pieces (grinding causes them to darken.) Grind onions and peppers in food chopper or chop very finè. Combine with pears. Add remaining ingredients - place spice loosely in cheesecloth bag. Simmer for 1/2 hour or until thick. Remove spice bag. Pour hot relish into hot sterlized jars. Seal and label.

Thought for the day: No matter what you do, someone always knew you would. Don't forget the More Abled Than Disabled Club's Picnic.

THE INTREPID COTTAGER

Those Little Town Blues

"The weekly newspaper column for cottagers

(c.1992 by Craig Nicholson. All Rights Reserved)

The reason I go to the cottage is to get away from town. It's not that I have anything against town except that's where the wife spends most of our money. It's just that when I live and breathe and work all week, wishing I could be someplace else, then town's not where I want to be when I'm off. But town has its town's not where I want to be when I'm off. But town has its place and that's where I go when I need something. The wife says I should stay until I'm fulfilled.

I'm fulfilled.
Any founding father worthy of being remembered located his town somewhere people could find it. This was quite a trick in those horse and buggy days when trips to town could take all day. Probably to one of those poorly located places.
Those that were found often enough are still here today and usually right on the way to the cottage.

cottage.

This is good because if I break the speed limit on the way, I can make it before the stores close Friday night. way, I call flake it below the stores close Friday night. Usually I forget the shopping list, or didn't make one, or it Usually I forget the shopping list, or didn't make one, or it got freshly laundered, so I buy everything I think I remember I need. So my cottage has loads of toilet paper, but no paper towels, pounds of curdling butter, but no vegetables, and lots of relish, soup and vinegar, but no spices or meat. If fact, I can't finish any recipe. I've ever started. The wife says it has nothing to do with supplies. I don't know. I never seem to I don't know. I never seem to run out of beer.

If I make it around to all the stores before closing and don't forget my purchases at the cash, I can avoid going to town again that weekend. But I spend the remainder of it trying to remember what else I've forgotten and then making excuses for why I don't need it right away. The wife always argues for urgency. I can't get panicky over hot dog buns. I panicky over hot dog buns. I make another list.

make another list.

If urgency prevails, I'll casually walk out to the head of our cottage road early Saturday morning. I'm bound to flag down some other poor sucker who has to go to town and can't refuse a favour. I'll even lend him my roof rack for the lumber.

Sometimes it's a near thing. Somebody has a birthday I didn't know about or I promdidn't know about or I promised to get something done or we have unexpected guests for dinner. So I buy in bulk and stockpile all the essentials. Like ice cream and cards and pop and dog food and bird seed and nibblies. Not much of a meal, but what do they want for nothing? And I've got all the food groups covered.

When I do have to go to town, it means there's a major emergency. Usually in my wallet. I make a list. The wife makes a list. I feed her list to the dogs. I drive to town planning my stops with military precision. The wife keeps adding: the five & dime, the craft shop, the bakery, the gift store, the jewellers. Window shop here, browse there. It's like ging shopping with a scud When I do have to go to town, shop here, browse there. It's like going shopping with a scud missile. I never know what's going to be hit next. I run over someone trying to flag me down at the head of our road.

someone trying to flag me down at the head of our road.

Some mornings I'll wake up and the wife will have disappeared. This means she's been kidnapped, or devoured by a bear or that I poked the wrong lump in the bed. Or she's snuck into town again for breakfast. Since there's no ransom note or gnawed bones and the only two lumps are dogs, town's a good bet. Also the car's gone. I don't know what the attraction is. I can over-cook eggs and burn coffee for free. She rents a video to ensure a return tripthe next day.

Not that people in town

the next day.

Not that people in town aren't as friendly as you'd ever want to meet. I think they're still happy to be found. Also, they never have to worry about going to town. I wonder where they go for breakfast?

It's rare that, I can get out of the without stopping to chew

It's rare that, I can get out of town without stopping to chew the fat with some of the merchants. And with the other husbands who were rooked into going to town. So I cruise the hardware store or the building hardware store or the building supply or the car wash or the garage. Talking about the high cost of brew, of taxes and of coming to town. And end up napping in the car in the grocery store parking lot. Waiting for the wife. I burn a strip of forehead skin bright red. The wife says its cute. I buy a head band.

Town can be a well-stocked

Kim Mitchell is Canada's classic party rocker in nearly 20 years without lyricist Pye Dubois. The album was co-produced by Mitchell and keyboardist John Webster (Tom Cochrane, Aerosmith, Bon Jovi) and mixed in Memphis by Joe Hardy (Tom Cochrane, Z.Z.

Top).

Mitchell says Aural Fixations was inspired by a the cover drawing by fellow Sarnian, Dan O'Neil.

It's been described as warm, funny and slightly left-of-centre."

"Artists reflect the world in which we live," Mitchell says.
"This is the statement of where I am right now in my life."

"This album has a spontaneous, hell-bent-for-leather feel," he adds.
Recorded "live-off-th-floor" in a 200-year-old warehouse situated in Toronto's Cherry Beach area, Mitchell doesn't hesitate to call it his "toughest assignment to date."
"I went into this one with a

"I went into this one with a lot of anxiety," he admits. "I've done a lot of albums and I was wondering whether I was going to come up with anything challenging."

"I was also wondering where the lyrcis would come from.

But I sat down one day and six songs came out immediately."

songs came our immediately.

In fact, Mitchell has hooked up with lifelong friend Jim Chevalier who has become his new lyricist. Chevalier last worked with Mitchell in the pre-Max Webster days with the band Zoom.

"That was the band that left Sarnia for Toronto seeking fame and fortune," Mitchell remembers. "We rented a house for $150 a month on King Street and survived on Kraft

"I stayed in Toronto and most of the other guys returned home and became born-again Christians."

The Mitchell/Chevalier team accounts for eight of the album's 12 tracks.

album's 12 tracks.
"It worked really well," Mitchell says. "It was everything a working relationship should be. He wasn't afraid to let me fool around and experi-ment. So the adjustment was ment. So the adjustment was really inspiring."

"It was a real pleasure to work with Kim." Chevalier says. "To me, the guy writes the most beautiful chord changes in rock 'n roll.

"He's a very sophisticated

Mitchell says he and Cheva-lier wanted their songs to be more subtle.

"We wanted our songs to mean a lot of things to a lot of people," Chevalier adds. "We wanted open ends, certain things to be left open to interpretation."

"But we also wanted some-thing that people could relate to -- something they'll listen to and dig for what it is."

and dig for what it is.

Both artists point to the first single "America" as an example of their mandate.

"I just wanted to say the American Dream is only as good as the quality of the dreamer," Chevalier explains.

The song "Some Folks" is described by Mitchell as "Star described by Mitchell as "Star Trek meets country music." "Long ago." Mitchell remembers. "I played in a country band for a summer-just to pay off a motorcycle. I hated it when I was doing it but by the end of the summer I kind of sinjoyed it." "It's probably an indication that some day people will be that some day people will be calling me Slim Mitchell and calling me Slim Mitchell and I'll go down to Nashville and get a sparkling Cadillac."

Three of the songs featured other collaborators — "Big Smoke" and "Dog And A Bone" by Juno winner Andy Curran and the sensual midtempo groove of "Pure As Gold," considered by some the best lyrcis The Pursuit of Happiness' Moe Berg has ever written. written.

'The idea of Big Smoke," Mitchell says, "came when we were mixing the live album in Vancouver. "Mike Fraser's (mixer) idea of taking a break was going to a strip club. One day, I just started playing this really sleazy riff that had a peeler-type feel to the music. The first person I thought of who could write a sexist/sleaze parody and make it work was Andy."

"He came up with the Big Smoke imagery and hit it right on the head." on the head

Mitchell fans will also be pleasantly suprised by his first instrumental, "Honey Forget Those Blues."

"That's been something I've wanted to do for awhile," Mitchell admits: "I've become a fan of big band music. It's so

Wheat Producers

The county Wheat Produc-ers' Association is, again, sponsoring a Wheat Produc-ers' Competition open to any growers in Northumberland County.

The competition will consist of two parts-a field score and show sample at the Warkworth Fair. Seventy per cent of the final score will be based on the final score will be based on the field score to be judged before the crop is harvested while the remainder will be based on the sample exhibited at the Warkworth Fair in mid-September. The field to be judged should be at least eight acres in size. The winner will receive a plaque in recognition at the annual meeting in the fall. Anyone interested should contact a member of the committee: Bill Honey at 705-924-2286 or Lawrence Massey at 416-344-7736.

you don't know what town they're referring to, you're not from these parts.

Despite my ambivalence, I'm glad for town. Without it there would be a cottage in the middle of nowhere, nothing to escape from and misleading road signs. Besides it's reassuring to know that there are still those heartland kind of places that Stompin' Tom sings about. Even if I have to be dragged there screaming.

DUPUIS, MAUREEN ANN - In loving memory of a dear daughter, sister, aunt and great aunt, Aug. 1st. 1986. So many things have happened Since you were called away. So many things to share with you. Had you been left to stay. Every day in some small way, Memories of you come our way. Though absent, you are even near. Still missed, loved, always dear. Your smile is gone forever. And your hand we cannot touch. We have so many memories. Of you, Maureen, we loved so very much. Sady missed by Mother, sister & brotherintaw Connie & Tom Vance, nieces Amy Lee & Jennifer, great niece Courthy and nephews. Creg & Doug.

HUNT, DANIEL - In lowing memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather who passed away July 27, 1989.
Within our hearts we will always keep A special place for you. And try to do our best to live As you would want us to. You gave us years of happiness. Then came sorrow and tears.

But you left us lasting memories.

We will treasure through the years.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife Betty, children Jacqui, Gary, Brenda Bev and their families, and sister Margaret

NEW & USED APPLIANCE SALE RUNNING TILL THANKSGIVING WEEKÉND

Over the winter months we have been re-conditioning appliances. We have in stock 80 used refrigerators with new compressors installed. The compressor motor is the most important & expensive part on a refrigerator. We buy compressor motors 100 at a time directly from the manufacturer. This way we can rebuild refrigerators cheaper than our competition. We have just purchased 500 used fridges & stoves from a company in Toronto that we have been buying from the last 10 yrs. A lot of these refrigerators are anartment size & 2 door frost-free fridges with matching stoves. We also have 60 matching almond fridge & stove sets, ranging from 2 months old & up. We also have 100 freezers of all sizes & a big selection of washers & dryers, lawn mowers and air conditioners

Smitty likes competition - it keeps one on their toes & prices in line. Smitty says check our competitors out & then come to Smitty's & browse thru our warehouses & see what we have to offer. You are not obligated to buy, just come & see for yourself our very clean & modern appliances. We take trade-ins. We have our own financing with no interest & same day delivery. If you are thinking of buying or selling your appliances, see Smitty just for an honest price?

English Girls' Choir performing in Belleville

The Central Berkshire Girls Choir will present a choral concert at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Belleville on Aug. 4 beginning at 7:30 p.m. This choir, formed in 1986, is the senior choir of the Central Berkshire Music Centre which is based in Reading in the Royal County of Berkshire in England

In the past six years the choir has gone from strength to strength and in 1990 was placed third in the National Choral Competition at the Royal Festival Hall.

In 1989 the choir had a very successful tour of Norway.
Their present tour of North America and Canada takes the choir to Laurel (Delaware), Pittsburgh, Orville (Ohio), Niagara Falls, Port Elgin, Belleville (Ontario and Rye Belleville (Ontario and Rye (New York.

The choir is conducted by Gwyn Arch who is a consultant and lecturer in Primary School Methodology. He is a Fellow of Trinity College, London, in composition, and specializes in composing and conducting. He has four choirs.

Arch's publications include much music for the 8-15 age range, and choral arrangements for mixed, female and male choirs. He is an examiner male choirs. He is an examiner of the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music and a music festival adjudicator.

His adjudication work has included the Bela Bartok International Contest in Hungary, the Cork (Ireland) International Festival, the Granada TV Schools Choir Competition, the National Festival of Music for Youth, and the National Choir Competition.

Admission to the concert is free and is set for Aug. 4 beginning at 7:30 p.m. at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Belleville.

Ontario Training & Adjustment Board to help "equity groups"

The Ontario Training and Adjustment Board (OTBA) has established local boards. In this area the proposed local board will reach from North Hastings, to Prince Edward County and from Napanee in the east, to Campbellford in the west the west.

According to Terry Cassidy, of Critical Issues Consulting the "challenge will include getting good and fair representation from all parts of the geographic area." (Cassidy is a Sidney Township councillor).

A "Social Action Group" was

A "Social Action Group" was formed earlier in the year to bring together various groups and individuals who represent the equity partners. The funda-mental goals of the Group are that equity and access are preserved in the future system of training.

Equity groups -- women, people with disabilities, visible minorities, immigrants and aboriginal people -- have an opportunity to be heard in the new system being developed that will oversea training in Ontario.

This means that "income and child care support, as well as an accommodation of the special needs of persons with disabilities must be ensured so disabilities must be ensured so that training can be accessed by members of the equity groups," explained Cassidy. "It is important to speak out now to show we want an active part in developing training policies," said Helen Hatfield from Counselling Services of Belleville & District.

The Social Action Group is seeking strong support from all parts of the proposed "local board" area. This support will "give credibilty and solid input into the local board," noted Leitch.

areas were thinking up a way to promote peace.

Their idea, the Lester B. Pearson Peace Park is celebrating its 25th Anniversary this year. Since it opened in 1967 over 30,000 people have visited the Peace Park.

Touring through the Peace Park with Director Roy Cadwell he recalled the history of the park.

Cadwell he recalled the history of the park.
Cadwell, a Canadian war veteran was a legal advisor to the Canadian Peace Commissioners in Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia. After retiring he and his wife Priscillà retired to the Peace Park and have been its directors since it opened.

The next exhibit was the "Hands Around The World" display. Cadwell said the sphere was created by a number of international students who had stayed in the park with he and his wife in the carbly 20°C. early 70's.

A tour through the Memorial Gardens followed, Cadwell said the Gardens was created to symbolize the soldiers killed in the last two World Wars.
The tour continued with a look at the Peace Pagoda Shrine which was donated by the Japanese Buddhist Association. The Peace Pagoda Shrine sits in one of six areas set aside for monuments from set aside for monuments from set aside for monuments from various religious organiza-tions. Currently the Peace Pagoda is the only religious monument in the Peace Park.

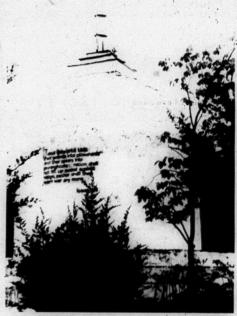

When the park was opened, two Buddhist priests dedicated the Shrine and asked that the Internation Peace Column be built beside it. The was inscribed in English and Japanese and reads, "May Eternal Peace Rule Throughout The Whole World With Peace And Friendship Between All Mankind".

The Vietnamese Pavilion was the next stop, Cadwell said the Pavilion is the place where Park award winners make their acceptance speech and also houses old photos and articles on the park itself.

The final tour stop was the Mother's Shrine and Tower of Hope. Cadwell said the Hope. Cadwell said the Mother's Shrine was designed to look like an apron and was built to remember those Cont'd on page 8

These signs welcome visitors to the Lester B. Pearson Peace Park that is located between Madoc and Tweed on Highway 7.
